If you are taking the CFA® Level III exam on June 4th and are concerned about the critical Essay Writing Component - We Can Help.

O. Nathan Ronen, CFA, a veteran CFA Level III instructor with the New York Society of Security Analysts (NYSSA), has developed an invaluable workshop to help refine your writing style for the CFA Level III exam.

Workshop Sessions:

May 8th - sold out

May 14th and May 21st - currently available

Here's how NYSSA's one-day "FEEDBACK ON YOUR ESSAY WRITING" workshop works:

- ~ NYSSA provides you with CFA Level III essay type questions on a variety of relevant topics including: Individual IPSs, Institutional IPSs, Fixed Income, Derivatives, Equity and other Portfolio Management topics.
- ~ You write your responses to each essay in the time frame allotted.
- ~ Then, Nathan will review each essay, highlight what needs to be conveyed and answer any questions about the essay or the answer.
- ~ After this detailed review, he will then provide you with a score for each essay, help you understand what your essays were missing and show you where you lost points.

These workshops pinpoint the key deficiencies in your writing style and show you exactly how to improve your approach to essay writing. Armed with this valuable information, you will be able to provide better structured responses on exam day.

The sessions fill up well in advance because space is limited. So don't delay and register as early as you can to guarantee your spot in one, two or all three sessions.

To Register, contact Jim Forster at (646) 871-3431
